Stung by Spirit

School spirit seemed to spring from every activity and sport Alameda High students took part in this year. If we won or lost a game it didn't matter. Hornet fans had fun rooting their teams on. From football games to spirit weeks, Harvest Food faire to float building, Alameda students found fun and pride in working together and creating a year that was stung by spirit.

* * *

Feelings this year shifted toward school pride and it showed in all we did; because of this the year 2001 will stand out in everyone's memory. Not only is it the true beginning of the new millennium, but this year is also the beginning of a new attitude toward school and toward each other on our campus.

STUNG BY Sentiment

Students spend lots of time together in class working on projects and giving presentations. However, this is nothing compared to the amount of time that students spend bonding and playing after school hours. Part of that free time is spent on jobs and some school activities like float building, while some of it is even spent doing homework!

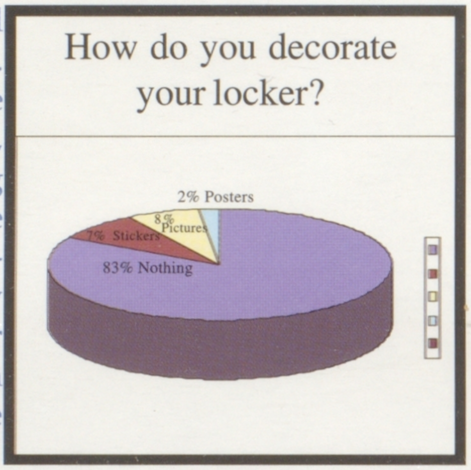
Lockers



How do you decorate your locker?

Every student is assigned a locker in September. They are used to store books, binders, sportsbags, and anything else. Some students use their locker between every period and some carry their belongings in their backpacks. Although lockers are not that large in space, students still manage to decorate and personalize them. It's a way of carving a tiny bit of private space in an otherwise large school. When lockers are out of a student's way they tend to be late or unprepared for class. There is a school rule which states that students cannot share lockers, but some students still do anyway.

How could Krystal Pearl's locker be so full?

Aaron Garrett, is like most Seniors who don't store lots of things in their lockers.

Freshman Jennifer Vu uses her locker to store shoes, books, and binders.

Sophmore Heather Gintz decorates her locker with the things that interest her.

Senior, Farnoush Ansari doesn't bother using her locker.

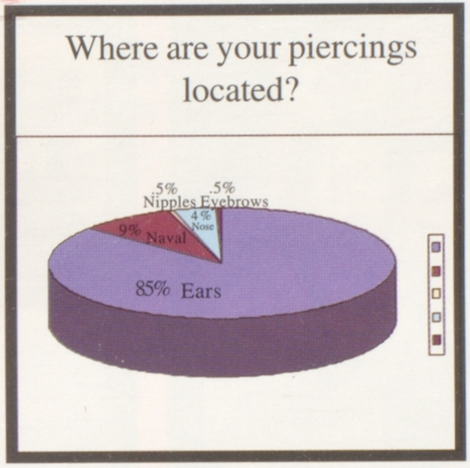
Ooh. . . Ahh. . .Ouch!

Body Piercings

Freshman Robyn Cepparo tattoos her lower back with a butterfly.

Maggie Mirault loves the looks of her nose ring.

Elaine Santos got two piercing for the price of one.



Julio Gonzalez chose one of the new age piercings.

Jamie Sawyer went through 2 1/2 hours of getting her tattoo.

Body art is a type of self expression and fashion. It can be used as a tribal character, bonding between family members, a special symbol, or even a cute design. People have decorated their bodies with tattooes and piercings since the dawn of time and it sprung back into fashion about ten years ago.

Most people think that tattooes and piercings are worth both the pain you have to go through and the cleaning process.

Brandon Flores has a loving tribute to his father.

Lisa Bowes went through the pain of piercing her tongue.

Diana Perras has a decorated unicorn on her lower back.

Heather Brown has a dangling charm piercing in her naval.

Monika Russi has a Chinese character tatooed on her ankle.

How to adorn an ear: Allison Waltson dresses her's up with three demure piercings.

Stefanie Keenan shows her love for softball with a tattoo.

Daniel Foster carries his art from the stage to his body.

Did You Know?

That color tattoos fade faster then black ones.

"Our hair is stylin' today!" shout Morgan Cepparo, Marissa Brown, and Nina Quinterez commenting on their crazy hair.

"My sister did my hair for crazy hair day. I can never do anything like that. It took her about 20 minutes to do."
-Victoria Whitmore

Sheena Newalu, Jinnie Lee and Joseph Lee all pose to show off Tigger whom they brought on Thursday for disney day.

"Winnie the Pooh, Winnie the Pooh," sings Heidi Hayame who brought Winnie to show her spirit for disney day.

When we asked Francisco Salinas why he dressed up as Santa Clause on Friday for class color day, he said it was because "I wanted the girls to sit on my lap."

SOPHOMORES

Everyone around agrees: Homecoming is a fun and exciting time. It's a time during high school when every single person has the oppurtunity to come together with their classmates and make a difference. Whether it's contributing to your class float, staying sober for the dance, or cheering for our team; people individually and as a whole made the week of Homecoming 2000 the start of a great spirited year for AHS.

Homecoming Surveys

We surveyed four different classes and asked them questions about the way they feel about our school during this week. One of the questions we got the hugest response from was:

What would be a better way to ensure fairness in the Homecoming nomination process?

These were the results:

71% said the TEACHERS should count the votes and not students.

18% said to have nominees make speeches or debate like in an election, to see who is best.

11% said there should be scantrons used so no one can cheat.

One of the other questions asked was "Do you feel the Homecoming nominees represent our school well." We got a high response from people who felt the nominees did not. 82% felt the nominees were repeats of faces we see every year.

Senior Laurel Hatfield throws it up to display pride and spirit at the assembly.

Stingin' With Style

Fads and Fashions

Where do you go shopping? Well, according to students polled at Alameda High School, Old Navy and The Gap are the favorites. This year, like past years, there are those who dress like the crowd as well as those who have their own unique styles. The fashions within the school are incredibly diverse. They range from preppies with polo shirts and khakis, to punk rockers with spiked leather jackets and chains. The students' many styles represent their many different personalities. Hopefully Hornets will remain diverse and open minded for years to come.

Our Furry Friends

Pets

Throughout the years thousands of students have come in as Freshmen and have graduated as Seniors. Community Service

KEY club members attend a convention in Long Beach to learn how to help others and their community.

Community service brings joy and warmth. It gives people a sense of satisfaction. There are many opportunities given to students in Alameda High School to give to our community. Students are required to do 20 hours of comunity service as a graduation requirement, but many students do it because they care. They think helping their community is extremely important to them. Caring... It's our way of life!

What do you think about community service?

"Community service is a way of helping our community." - Peter Chung

"I think we shouldn't have community service required because it's too easy to get hours by not doing anything." - Janine Wong

"We need the community service because it shows the community that we care!" - Sarah Cheong

"I do community service because it is required to graduate." - Weyinmi Etchie

Jack Lam publicizes Red Cross to beautify our community.

"What story do you want to hear next? Jenny Wong kindly helps out children at a church.

Julianna Chow gets ready to donate blood to save three people's lives.

Benedict Bito updates information in library.

Anh Khong and Joseph Huang help out at USS Hornet.

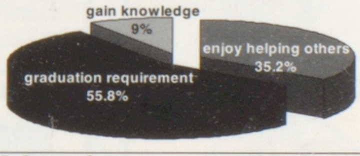
Why do you do community service?



A. H. S. students are required to do 20 hours of community service to help out the community. Even though it is required and may be boring, 71.4% of students enjoy helping out the community and show them that they care. Students feel proud of themselves when they help out the community. Let's show our community that we care!

Weekends

What do you do during weekends?

"I sit back and relax, and party all night with my girlfriends." - June Fan

"I spend my weekends studying and doing homework." - Tommy Anderson

"I spend my weekends at home, staring at the TV, waiting for someone to call me... I need a weekend friend." - Sheena Newalu

"I spend my weekends hitting up the gym."
- Danny Burgess

"I go out to movies and clean my room."
- Roland Manuel

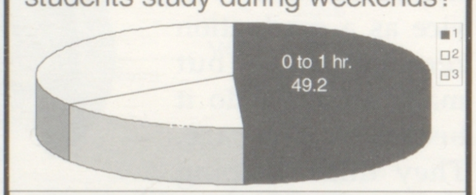
How do the Hornets spend their two days off between the school weeks? Weekend activities include working, studying, going out with friends, working out at the gym, sleeping, shopping, going to the movies, and watching T.V. It just shows how much it pays off to go to school for five days when you get two days at the end of the week to have fun. At the end of the week, we find ourselves saying "Thank goodness it's Friday!"

How many hours do A. H. S. students study during weekends?



* During the weekend, 79% of students at A. H. S. sleep more than 10 hours . (Wow!)
* When students go out with their friends, 70% of the students spend $0 to $20, 20% spend $21 to $40, and 10% spend more than $40 in average .

Moenika Schamoni sleeps through her two days off.

Special Interests

The students at this school have a wide variety of special interests, from music to gymnastics to traveling. These special interests take a lot of hard work and dedication, and they can be very interesting and unique. Many of our students are artistic, although on average the students at this school only rate their artistic talents as a 6 (on a scale of 1-10). Moreover, 69% of us prefer to play sports than to do something art related. And then there are still a wide range of special talents and special interests that do not fall under these catagories. Many of us do amazing things every day that are incredibly spectacular and that require a great deal of talent, inspiration and hard work. Check out this page and see what some fellow Hornets are doing.

Hornet Holidays

Harvest Food Faire, Student Day, Unity Week

This year was a year full of fun and diverse festivals at Alameda High. This year we had the annual Harvest Food Faire and Unity Week not to mention for the first time Student Day. Finally, some time to celebrate the students! In return for high test scores on the Stat 9 tests, the student body was given free lunches from IN-N-OUT, Acapulco and Domino's. This year was a big turn out for the Havest Food Faire where there were more people involved than past years. At Unity Week, the performance at the talent show was unique and diverse as the food. Overall, this year was full of many rewarding holidays for our school to enjoy.

Winter Break

As the last bell rang on December 15, students of Alameda High School gathered their belongings and ventured out for a two week long vacation. While some lucky Hornets made it out of town for winter break to enjoy the snow, others stayed behind and relaxed in Alameda, just enjoying the break and having no obligations. So whether you spent your break at home or on vacation, we hope you had a great time.

"On New Year's, I went to a party and spent time with close friends." -Susan Chung

"On New Year's, my friends and I went to a huge house party in South Lake Tahoe." - Sara Ghaffari

"I won a ticket to Massachusetts on a radio contest...I met a girl, we've been talking ever since." -Kavinh Darasouk

How Would You Rate Your Winter Break?

45% - It was way too short!

15% - It was BORING!

10% - I can't remember...

25% - It was really fun!

5% - What's Winter Break?

Would you rather.....

Spend the weekend with your grandparents
OR
Be sick at home in Alameda by yourself

Not get any presents during the holidays
OR
Have every person give you a pair of ugly socks

Be stuck somewhere great with someone you hate
OR
Be stuck somewhere heinous with people you like

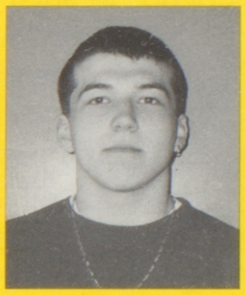
What did you do over Winter break?

"I went on a cruise that was supposed to be fun, but instead I got sick and had to get a shot in the butt."
-Becky Stern



"I went to visit my family in Europe and spent 16 of the 20 days there clubbin'."
-Roman Feygelman

"I didn't go anywhere, I just hung out with my friends."
-Danitt Smiler

"I went to Las Vegas for a basketball tournament, and hung out with my boyfriend."
-Lucia Galindo

"I went up to my cabin in Strawberry with my friends and family."
-Crystil Turner

"I went on vacation to New Mexico, and while I was there I saw lots of Indians."
-Jennifer Frankel

Dances

When it comes to dances no one can shake it like the Hornets. Alameda High students really know how to party. The Seniors, with their years of experience in such social events, are the life of the party. Not to be overlooked, the Junior class adds its own unique style to the mix. The Sophomores have a never-ending spirit, and the Freshmen never take a break from all the action on the dance floor. With the music blasting and the bright lights shining, the Hornets boogie the night away. These moments will remain forever in our memory.

Cuties Dania Leyva, a Senior Life Skills student, and Rose Dubiel, a former AHS student, cuddle quickly.

Dorothy Kim, Lisa Leung, Jasmine Lee, Sandy Tieu, Crystal Lee, and Dianne Lotivio are all dressed up and ready to boogie.

Sweets for the sweet Flor Coral and Sabrina Atencio.

Carly VanOrsdel and Blanca Cardenas discuss the latest gossip.

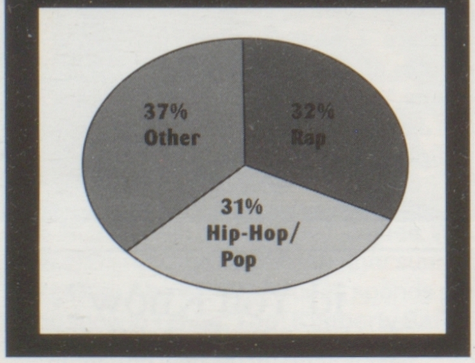
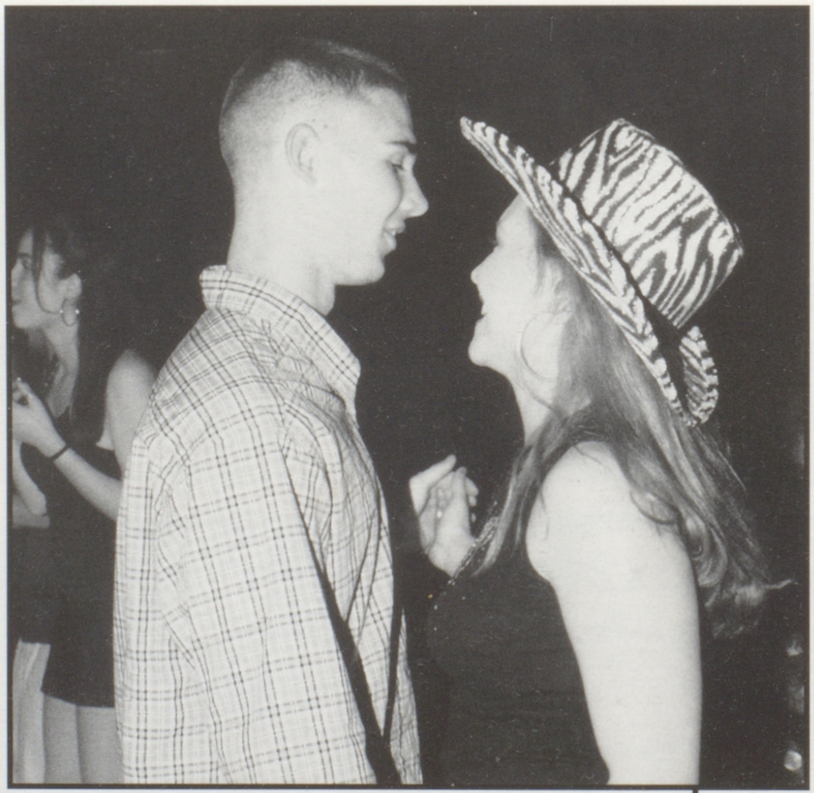
What type of music would you prefer the DJ to play?





Monica Dominguez enjoys a slow dance with Travis Adragna.

Audrey Crawford searches for a friend across the crowded room.

C'mon shake 'em!! Shake Your bon bons...

Darah Wagner, Kierstyn Moore, Melissa Baptista and Allison Kane are really swinging it.

Jay Castro jumps for joy as he hears his name announced for class prince.

Molly Russell really gets into the music.

Curtis Taylor & Lani Wong enjoying their time at the dance.

Hornets really know how to put their hearts into their moves!

Chris Vee . . . what a sweetheart!

Kaci Piro, Alexandra Barnish, and Yolanda Aguilar enjoy their flirty feather boas.

Monique Parras and Kristina Duran don't need guys to have a good time.

Molly Russell, Ana Gimlen & Kristina Rodriguez take a break from their fun time for a quick pic.

Danielle Lusk looking radiant for the dance.

Did You Know?

That over 400 students attended the Rain Drops on Roses Dance.

Chris Lee, Jackie Wong, & Lydia Xenos

1) Seniors are known for standing out in their final year of high school and Robert Domholt is no exception. 2) Abdullah Shaghasi and Jamie Cheng show their school spirit in the most ancient of ways. 3) Maggie Young does her best impression of Mia Wallace from Pulp fiction on Halloween. 4) Our ladies of the court, Balanca Cardenas, Thea Lee, and Jamie Cheng, enthusiastically wait for their escorts to the homecoming dance. 5) Though Greek gods these two gentlemen may not be, Richard Hewitt and Eyad Latif, show almighty Senior Pride. 6) Senior students congratulate each other after winning the most spirit points in another assembly.

STUNG BY Success

During Senior year, a mean little thing called "reality" hits Alameda students with jolts of excitement as freedom approaches and the fear of being out on their own two feet nears. All in all, the feeling hits with the intensity of a semi-truck going 75 miles per hour. Luckily Seniors are distracted with school projects like thesis papers, the Senior Portfolio, and the Senior Project. No matter how smooth Seniors may act all year long, on stage during graduation you can be sure they will be all nerves when their name is called to accept their diploma.

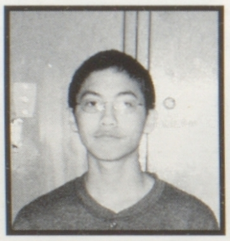
Talented Techies

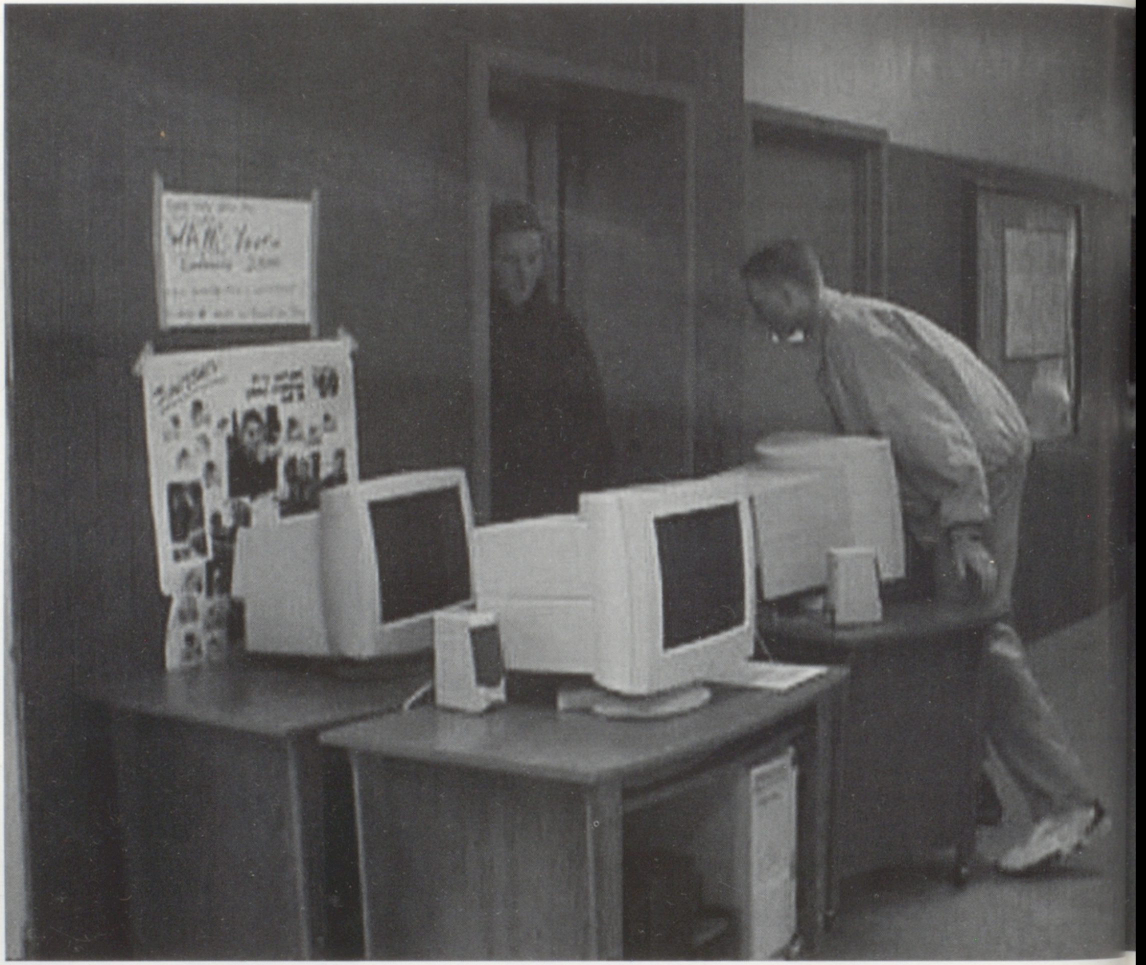
How long do you think it will take until the Digital High come to its full potential?

"Next year. We have limited resources, we don't have the people or the "manpower."
-David Man

"Two years, because we are not reall y organized."
-Alex Best

"Pretty soon, because we've got a lot of people working on it with skill, like Bruce [Wong] and David [Man]."
-Jeremy Dang

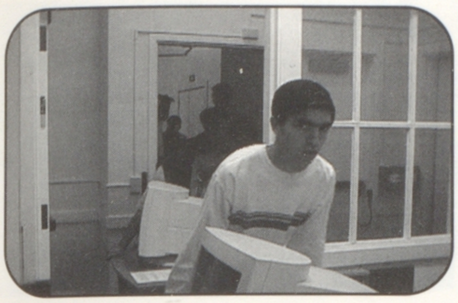




Above: "How are we supposed to get this through the door?" ponder Michael Hatfield and Alex Best.
Right: "Maybe I should try out for track," Eric Rosete thinks as he runs to get more computers for the lab.

Technology is an important part of our personal lives. Technology allows us to communicate with our friends, find information for school, and make money. Technology is equally important at Alameda High School. This year, Alameda High became a "Digital High School." Becoming a D.H.S. has allowed us to receive new Dell computers for the computer labs, and every teacher now has a new Dell computer in his or her classroom. None of this would be possible without the hard work of the Tech Aides, who, along with Dr. Dauber and parents, set up the computer labs and media center with the new computers over the summer.

Below: Greg Orzell moves through the line of computers waiting to be placed in the classrooms.



Below: Dr. Dauber holds on tight while taking a ride in the truck delivering the new computers.

Below: Michael Hatfield, Greg Orzell, and Scott Oh push the new computers into the Media Center.

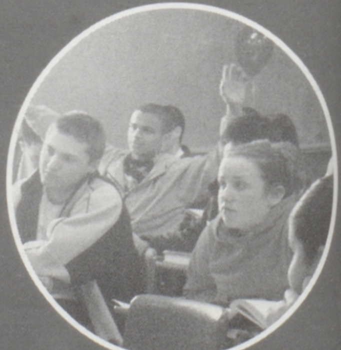
Mr. Friedman patiently walks through an Algebra word problem with Tracilyn Gracia- Lum.

Taking time from Geometry Jillian Zarifis shows off her handy dandy helpful notes on "The Tangent Ratios."

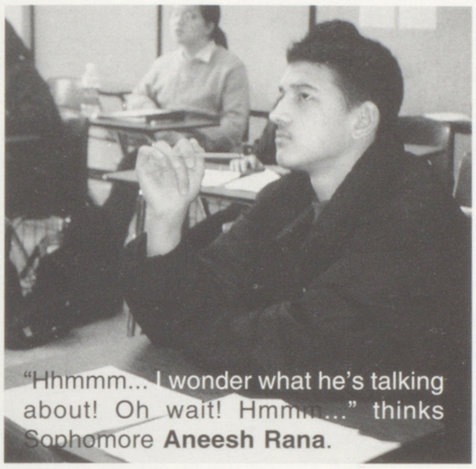


"Huh? What? Hold up Mr. Cooper! Where did you get that equation from?" questions Junior Brian Brooks.

Julianna Chow is utterly shocked at how well she did on her Pre-Calculas test.

Senior, Rema AbuRahma reviews her mistakes on her Pre- Calculas test so next time she will not make the same silly mistakes next time.

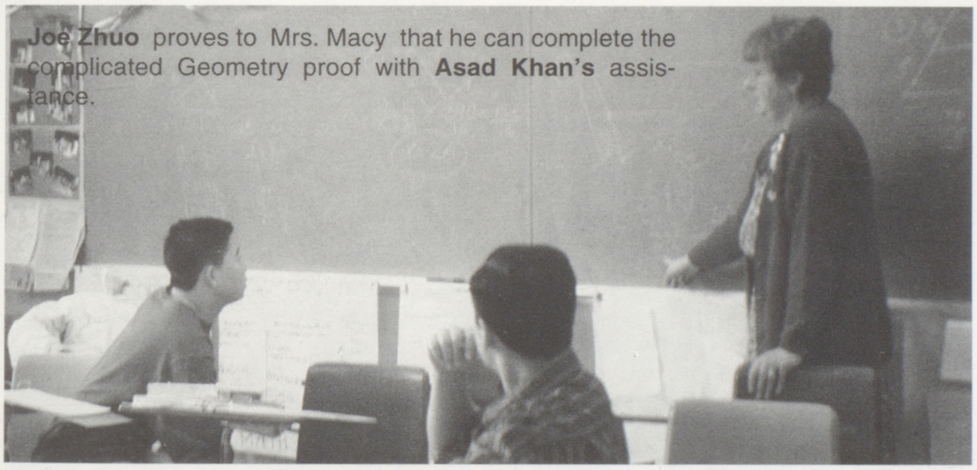
One of the most important acedamic classes every student take during high school is Math. Most students take Math courses in order to graduate while some students take them to enhance their math skills. Alameda High School offers a wide variety of Math courses. The more popular courses are Algebra, Geometry, Algebra 2, and Pre-Calculus. But some students who strives to learn more take Math Analysis, or Calculus. Math teachers always find creative ways to make math easy and fun by relating it to real life situations. In fact math surrounds us everywhere everyday.



"Hhmmm... I wonder what he's talking about! Oh wait! Hmmm..." thinks Sophomore Aneesh Rana.

WIth a serious attitude and an undivided attention,Robbie Ding copies Algebra 2 notes from the board.

Christian Martin- Del Compo works diligently in preparation of an upcoming Math test.



Joe Zhuo proves to Mrs. Macy that he can complete the complicated Geometry proof with Asad Khan's assistance.

Lucy Lu works hard to finish her homework so she can spend her weekend partying with her friends.

Sarah Cheong uses colorful pens and papers to assist her in memorizing equations for her Geometry test.

Students in the Musical department express their feelings by singing or playing instruments. Students from Choir, Jazz Band, Musical Theater, Concert Band, and Intermediate Band perform during school and everytime they perform, they do a wonderful job. This year's big change was the addition of a new Music teacher, Joe Smiele. He comes to us from New York and has infused the Music department with enthusiasm.

"I enjoy the expression of people and singing all the songs to Stephanie."

Teenagers have a hard time deciding what they want to do with their lives. However, at Alameda High School special classes are offered to assist in making this difficult decision. The Integrated Career Preparation (I.C.P.) classes offered at AHS, including Floral Arts, Drafting, Wood Shop, Auto Shop, Entrepreneurship, and Careers with Children, prepare students for careers in certain fields. The classes teach students new skills and help build on other skills the students may have. Who knows, the students currently taking these classes could be future flower arrangers, architects, wood-workers, mechanics, and business owners.

STUNNED BY SPEED

Cross Country

Cross Country is a sport that is very strenous on the mind and body. The team members run races up to six miles, pushing their bodies to the extreme. Every day after school, the runners meet with their coaches, Brian Lodge and Bruce Hicks and jog around Alameda. During the summer, some runners trained in up in the moutains, where the altitude is high, to increase their lung capacity.

"Cross country was hard in the beginning. If it was a tough day, we would jog or sprint uphill. If it was an easy day, we would just run a flat distance, but I'll be training in the summer and ready for next season." - Brian Roper

Nathan Brassmassery puts all his effort in his running to gain first place in the 3.15 mile run in Joaquin Miller Park, Oakland.

J.V. & Varsity Cheerleading

The Hornet cheerleaders have had an excellent season. They have showed their school spirit at many school events such as assemblies, spirit rallies, football games and basketball games. They also appeared and performed at the Park Street car show. This spirited group of girls represented Alameda High at USA's annual cheerleading camp, winning Superiors in all categories. They also won a spirit award for having the most, well, spirit. Throughout the year, these girls have practiced weekly in order to come to a variety games with exciting half-time dances, cheers and stunts that get the fans involved in the game. The new lights on Thompson Field brought more fans during the football season to the games which meant more people for the cheerleaders to entertain. During basketball season, they supported women's and men's J.V. and Varsity teams by spreading their spirit to the crowd.

My most memorable part of cheerleading was......

"When we got locked out of our dorm room at cheerleading camp and they made me climb through a tiny window."-Carly VanOrsdel

"The experience of being a captain for the first time."-Allison Walston

How do you get the crowd into the game?

"I get the crowd into the game by crowd encouragement, smiling,and even going into the crowd!"
-Alicia Morrow

"I get the crowd into the game with anything that's possible. Chants, cheers, toe touches, or kicks."
-Mia Croft

Miriam Adrianowicz ends a cheer sharply in a right "L".

REVIVAL

VARSITY fOOTBALL

This year's football season was full of surprises. The Hornets came into the season with a 16-game losing streak. All of the newspapers in the Bay Area predicted Alameda to go 0-10 once again, for the second straight year. During the off-season, Alameda aquired a new coach. Alumni Kevin Hennesse came into a bleeding program and stiched it up. Also in the off-season, lights at Thompson Field were approved. All of this showed a promising start to the upcoming season. As the first game came around, Alameda was lead by seven All-Leagers, Ryan Smith, Dan Carrasco, Robert Domholt, Conor Patterson, Alex Rosko, Chris Cheng, and Quincy Scurry. The Hornets were also pushed hard by the shouting, screaming fans, who at some games swelled to a crowd of 3,000. The crowd's role was huge, acting as the twelth man on the team. Alameda's Hornet Pride was back in football as the Hornets nearly made the playoffs going 5-5.

BIG BACKHAND

WOMEN'S TENNIS

This year's tennis Hornets have played well. They have practiced really hard to win most of the games. They practiced so hard, in fact, the swim team sometimes found themselves pelted with stray tennis balls. They may have lost a few games, but that did not keep them from pressing on towin others. The Hornets have good talents and skills in tennis. About half of the tennis players have played tennis since elementary school or younger; many have played more than seven years. Most of the tennis players want to continue playing tennis as they grow up. Coach Glen Oetman and Co-Coach Les White have been there to help the players fix their troubles. Their coaches should be proud of their job and the players this year. The tennis players must have been proud of their coaches too.

Co-Coach Les White observes from the bench, rooting his players on and awaiting the final results of the game.

WOMEN MAKE A SPLASH

Women's Water Polo

This year the women's water polo team gained a cornucopia of new players as well as a new coach. As with all new teams, our lady Hornets started the season with many difficulties. But as Hornets do, they persevered through their problems and came out with a sucessful year. According to several players, this was the most successful season yet.

The Alameda High Women's water polo team gets together to raise some team spirit before the game.

An attentive Angela Burgess, c/o 01, looks for an open player before throwing the ball.

Goalie, Senior Brenna Sabatinni, waits for the offense to line up.

Sophomore Farnaz Ansari takes a moment before she throws the ball to a fellow teamate.

Ashley Tennell, c/o 01, defends the ball.

Senior Farnoush Ansari makes a last minute pass.

Senior Carmen Centurian looses possession of the ball.

Alameda Senior Carmen Centurian hopes for a goal as she shoots the ball.

Aggressive Sophomore Liana Cheng takes the defensive when the opponent obtains the ball.

Badminton

Although badminton doesn't receive as much recognition as football at Alameda High School, the badminton team is really quite impressive, placing third in league. Students dedicate many hours of their precious time to hone their skills. A little bit of concentration, some quick reflexes, and a smidgen of precision are all it takes to be a badminton great. They only play in singles or doubles, but the team still gathers before each game to encourage one another and show their support. Despite the lack of contact, badminton is quite intense, it works the body both mentally and physically. The thrill of competition and the challenge of the game are what draw people to badminton. After the day is done and the game is played, these talented players go home knowing they played their hearts out.

FIRE IT UP

The 2000-2001 season for the Alameda Lady Hornets was an experience never to forget. At the start of the year they came close to beating the AHS Alumni team, which was a definite boost in the teams esteem. The players grew closer on trips for tournaments in Las Vegas, Sonora, Lake Tahoe and Santa Barbara. Two new Freshmen were added to the team, and with only one Senior this year, they knew it was time to prove themselves and work hard. They created strong friendships and bonds that supported them through the rough times. Each player on the team aquired and improved on different techniques through strenuous practice and intense games. They proudly finished the ACCAL league season with a solid five wins and seven losses.

MEN'S VARSITY BASKETBALL

The Hornet Varsity Team had a very good season this year. They went from 5-21 to 13-13 and were almost able to apply for an NCS birth. Hopefully the team will continue to improve and do even better next season. This team had a lot of heart and always played hard. Each one of them stepped up for each other when they were needed to help the team. End the end they came through for each other. Their success was great compared to the year before. They all look forward to next year, and to the graduating seniors, who played hard for the team we wish you luck.

Varsity Baseball

Baseball, Alameda High's favorite pastime. Every week the dedicated team members of Varsity Baseball pitch, hit, run, catch, and slide their way to victory. It takes a lot to make it with the team rated 10th in the Bay Area. Practicing three hours every day and playing games twice a week are just some of the sacrifices each team member must make. These students have dedicated their lives to the sport. "It is so much more than peanuts and Cracker Jacks. It's my life," says Senior Dave Ballerini. This year, the Hornets are proud to be predicted to win League. It is all this hard work and dedication that has gotten the team this far.

WHO'S ON THE RELAY?

Women's Swimming

When people think of swimming they picture people tanning and playing games in the pool. The Alameda women's swim team has a different interpretation. Waking up every morning at 6:00 am and swimming after school is a big commitment to make. During three hard months of training, these girls are in the pool rain or shine. All of this work boils down to the ACCAL swimming championships in May. For the last three years the Alameda High Swim Team has finished the season with carrying the title as ACCAL champions.

TOP 8 REASONS WHY WE SWIM

8.We thrive on competition
7. It gives us something to do at 6:00 am
6. Chlorine is cheaper than cologne
5. Gives our families something to do on the week days
4. We enjoy banging our heads into the walls.
3. We love swimming in circles
2. Saves us the trouble of taking a shower everyday
1. It's great to be a part of the team!!

"I've really enjoyed being on the swim team for the past four years. It's been a lot of fun meeting new people and winning league. This year we had a lot new people and it was awesome to watch the improvement as the season progressed."
Co-captain Ashley Tennell

"Our women are working hard. Physically, mentally, and Emotionally. Whether or not we win league again this year we will have accomplished something; we will have fused together a team with advanced athletic ability and sportmanship savvy."
Co-captian Carmen Centurion

"These past four years have been a great experience for me. Being on the Varsity team my Freshman year was a good time to meet older and more advanced swimmers. Although I knew most of my fellow team members since I was young. I enjoyed meeting new people that liked to swim"
Co-captain Megan Pitts

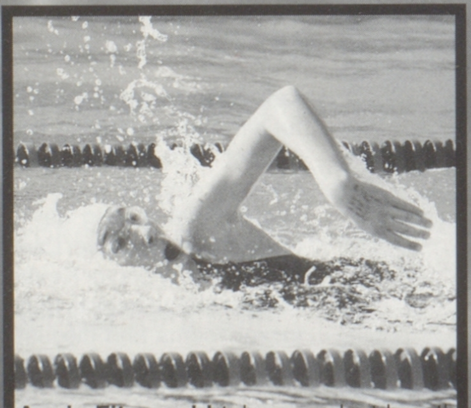
Anchor Jenni Bliecher takes a quick breath to keep the lead for her relay.

Diver Jenny Komar looks down before going head first in the water.



Angie Fitzgerald takes one last breath before getting to the wall.

Mylene Coste puts all concentration on making a steady dive.

"Go Yazzy Yaz!", screams the croud as Yasmin Nho finishes her race.

MAKINGWAVES

Men's Swimming

Swimming is a sport that works on personal and team abilities. Throughout the 2000-2001 season, the men's swim team worked together to beat its opponents at every meet. In order to win, they had to make some sacrifices. One sacrifice they had to make was shaving their legs. "It was difficult," say many new-comers. Even though shaving their legs was difficult for some men, it helped them swim faster and defeat their opponents.

TO VICTORY!

Men's tennis team comes together with talent and intelligence. The team shows their dedication and leads toward to the success.

Tennis, a game played with a racket and a ball by two (as in singles) or four (as in doubles) competitors, is on a rectangular court with a net strung between the midpoints of the longer sides of the court. Tennis ranks as one of the most popular spectator and participation sports in the world, with fans and competitors in more than 100 countries. This year, Alameda High's tennis team played extremely well through its challenging matches. All the players are dedicated to tough and long hours of practice. Coaches Hennessee and White led the players to victory through this arduous season.

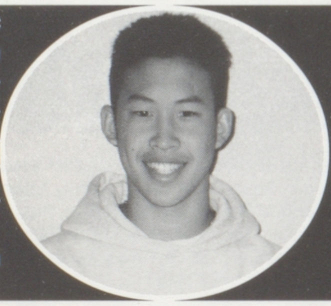
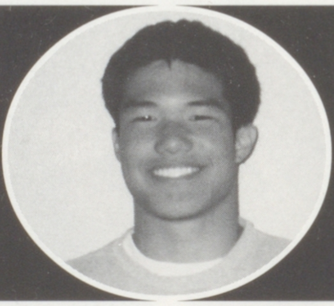
"This is fantastic group of young men who were a pleasure to coach. Anybody who was able to see us play saw exciting and competitive tennis."

- Coach Kevin Hennessee



"It feels great to leave my four-year legacy at this school..."

- Captain Vincent Chu



"We have played exceptionally well this year. We have an excellent chance of winning league and getting to North Coast."

- Captain Hubert Chu

SPIKE TO VICTORY

Men's Volleyball

The 2001 season for the Men's Volleyball team was full of hard work, perseverance and drive for success. It was a year of re-building. A few new players joined the team this year. Both the new and returning players really came together to form a commited, united team. They gave each other support they needed to keep their heads up during tough times. They played a lot of new, unfamiliar teams this year, due to league changes. Though it was a challenge, they constantly strove to be the best even when times looked bleak. The team put out extreme efforts and tried their hardest during every single game.

"We have been a part of this team since our Freshmen year and we are happy with the improvements and overall growth of the team over the last four years. We've seen this program start with players in tee shirts with tape on their backs, grow into a well- respected and dominant figure in the league. Our team consists of hard-working athletes. Even with coach changes, lack of funds and equipment, we all have strong hopes for the season and NCS."

RISING TO THE TOP

Big Games

This year the Jets ran out of fuel because these Hornets cannot be stopped; the Hornets also trampled all over their other main opponents. After months of training the various teams pulled together to pull off winning games. Although not all of the teams beat the ir rivalries, they still played hard and impressed everyone. Every possible minute of practice, the athletes perfected their skills for the most important game of the season and the arch enemies were stunned by the Hornet's teamwork and persistant application. The student body supported the teams by attending the games in white and gold; their spirit and cheering encouraged the atheletes to perform at their best. The atheletes of Alameda High would not have been so succesful without the consistant dedication from the coaches.

Megan Rhodes quickly shoots the ball to score another point against the Jets.

The homemade Hornet is hung over the gym to watch over the game and show its support.

Who knew . . .

If AHS students had to choose a hairstyle between a Mohawk, Dreads, or a Hightop, the majority choose Dreads.

This year Juniors were asked to do a survey to know them a little better. One of the questions was; What is your favorite type of T.V. program? Below are the results.

Time to go home! May Tran and Adam Alway run to meet Tricia Day who is waiting patiently to drive them home.

I don't think that is a physics book. Ewana Cheng and Sally Mulligan read the Jaunuary issue of Teen People in Mr. Hakim's 4th period class.

It's only 3:15pm friday afternoon, the "Junior Hall" is deserted. Where did everyone go?

Cheese!

HA! You've been caught by a yearbook photographer.g

Three years down, one year to go! Are Juniors ready to take the place of the class of 2001? Well, ready or not, here it comes! Many Juniors used their third year in high school studying hard and stressing about their SATs or ACTs and their unpredictable future. Fortunately, 50% of Alameda High School's Juniors took their SATs in the beginning of the school year to get them out of the way. Still many are not sure of how their future will look but luckily, they still have one more year to decide that as well as take all their admission tests.

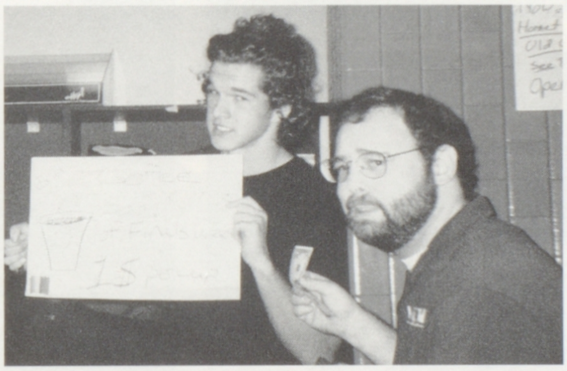
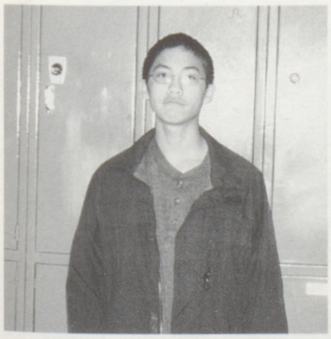
Helen Hanson uses the computer in the Media Center after school to check her email.

"What to write about?" Jon Withworth ponders what to write for Mr. Carmen's English final.



Can Mr. Lamb afford that tempting cup of coffee from Brian Hughes?

Juniors say:



“This year was very interesting. I met some of the wierdest people. - Jeremy Dang”

“This year was just like the other years. I'm just glad I only have one more year left. - Tricia Day”

“This year was pretty easy. I met some new people and had fun. - Mellisa Rivera”

“This year was a little harder than 9th or 10th grade because I had to worry about college stuff. - Nicole Day”

From This Moment On

Spring Formal

On March 24, 200, the class of Two- Thousand and Two presented the Spring Formal, From This Moment On. It was held at the Scottish Rite Temple in Oakland from 8 o' clock to 12 o'clock in the evening. The dance was musically entertained by Spintronyx. For many, this moment will always be treasured in their hearts.

1) Time to slow it down. AHS students grab their dates to break in the dance floor.

2) Mindy Eash enjoys herself as she dances with her Sophomore date Adam Nelson.

3) "Hmmmm? Should I dance with David Nayfeld, or should I not?" ponders Carly VanOrsdel.

1. Erin Hill and Tamera Jenson keep warm by drinking hot chocolate at break. 2. Robert Puryear takes time to beautify Thompson Field. 3. Paul Chi listens to music to relax during finals week. 4. Amber Garrett and Vera Frescura are dressed warmly for the cold winter weather. 5. Danny Burgess and Antoinette Verduzco dance the night away at Winterball. 6. Jill Connolly and Chris Dahl keep each other warm during break. 7. Jason Zellick ponders about what he will write about. 8. Ashley Heacock and Vanessa Ramos show that they are having a good time. 9. Sara Chong gives a quick hug.

Sophomore year is the time to start concentrating on your studies. Freshman year was time to get used to high school and meet new people. Now that's over and it's time to focus. We downgrade the Freshman but we were one of them last year. The class of '03 realized they are halfway through high school and it's time to think about the future. Classes become harder and teachers expect more from their students.

When the class of 2004 entered high school, they didn't know what to expect. They were scared for they didn't know what their teachers or the upper classmen would be like. The class of 2004 worked all year long in their classes and in their spirit. They desperately wanted to show that the class of 2004 is the best. By the end of the year, the Freshmen proved to everyone that they are the best!!!

Now, that the Freshmen's first year is over, the class of 2004 can leave for summer with one thought in the mind: Only three more years left!

Theresa Chan begins work on a mural in her Spanish class.

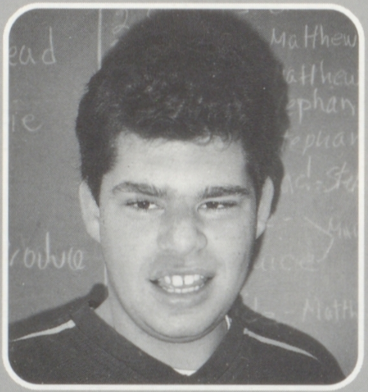
Changing the world

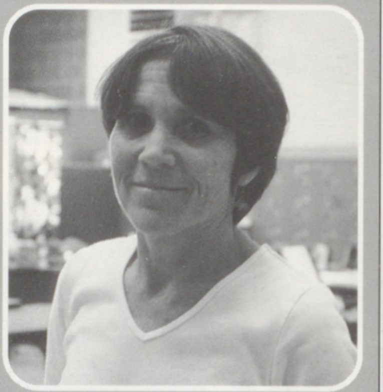
Post Grads

Anne Barbera

Mark Inocencio



William Thompson



Julie Williams, Teacher

One of the most productive classes at Alameda High is the Post-Grads class. The Post-Grads students have already graduated, but have the privilege of staying with the school until they reach the age of 22. Julie Williams and the para-professionals prepare the students for their entry into the "real world." Every week day, the Post-Grads set up a small store to sell snacks to students between classes. This helps them to practice their Math and people skills. The money they make goes towards music and parties, for which this class is famous. It's their reward for being such positive members of the community.

After a careful cast, William Thompson slowly reels in the line, hoping to find the day's biggest catch.

William Thompson loads the cart with sodas in preparation for the school store, open daily.

Teaching is one of the most difficult and satisfying occupations in the world. Everyone knows teaching is abysmally underpaid, and sometimes the long hours after school and the constant inability to leave the room for lunch hardly seems worth it. We hope our AHS teachers know we appreciate their foregoing better paying careers to be here working on our behalf. Without these people, Alameda High would not be the same. They give their personal touch to everything they do, making our lives that much better.

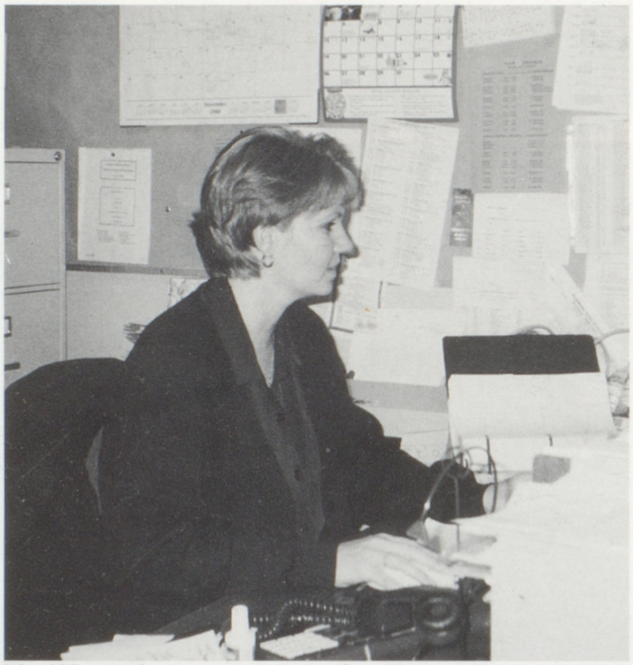
Behind the scenes

Staff

Ms. Mjelde prepares for the first fire drill of the school year.

First Row: Brenda Gast, Paula Rolleri, Pamela Fabela, Wendy Mariani Second Row: Linda Saali, Susan Irvine, Terry Dominguez, Tonya Wynn, Jackie Falletti



Ms. Winn, who can usually be found somewhere under a jumble of papers, scrolls through 1682 names of students.

It's a tough job, but somebody's got to do it. And that somebody is Lala Catambay.

Para-professionals Homayon Safi and Kim Mende with Sharon Borensztein and Evan Cambell at their school store.

Ms. Rolleri and Carly CanOrsdel discuss the week's hectic events.

Ms. Dimaano and Mr. Johnson comb the school grounds together, searching for tardy strugglers after break.

Although there have been great advances in technology in the past decade, making many jobs easier, nothing can replace the staff at Alameda High. Even if a computer calls our parents to tell them we missed a class, no machine could get to know and care for the 1682 students that the clerks, para-professionals, and custodians do. Every time we call in sick, someone has to write out pass. Every time we drop out chocolate milk shake from Jack in the Box, someone has to clean it up. Everything we do in school is made possible by the dedicated men and women that make our school great.

Ms. Williams, in her last year at AHS.

Mr. Johnson, Mr. Rawlins, and Kyle Potter reviewing fire drill plans.

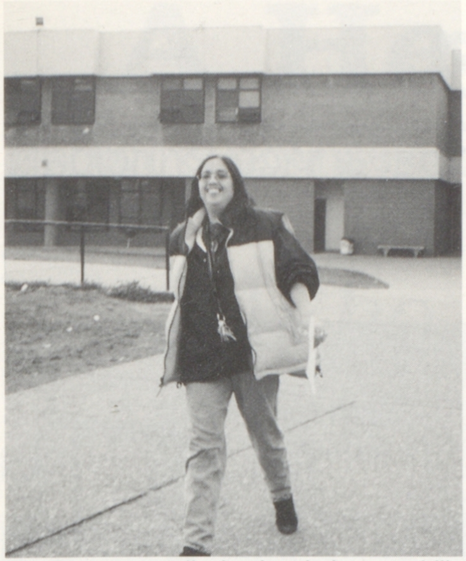
Who knew . . .

Every year, three to four hundred students lose their ID cards!



Ms. Dimaano walks by the circle on a chilly winter morning.

Ms. Falletti, the goddess of money, keeps track of student club, athletic, and leadership accounts at the school bank.

Ms. Mariani, always busy in the attendance office, talks to a parent about their child's absences.

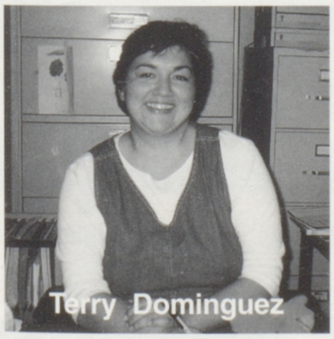
Ms. Winzenread records unpaid late fees in the school library.

Ms. Rolleri, everyone's favorite bookroom lady, checks out a Chemistry book for junior Melissa Wellingtan.

Kelly Krasky, Mike Stollger, Linda Gutierrez, Abdullah Shagasi, and Christina Duran wait patiently to clear their absences on Disney Day.

Ms. Gast, without whom the school would come to a grinding halt, carries papers from the recently renovated Kaufman building.

quotes



Terry Dominguez

“I came here because of the wonderful staff, and then I fell in love with the kids.”

Beth Dimaano

“Because I heard they were great kids, and my children attend here.”

Jackie Falletti

“The school continues to have high standards, like when I attended.”

Tonya Wynn

“I am an alumni, and I thought it would be great to work with the kids I felt so close to.”

New Faces

Principal & Vice Principals

Ms. Sherratt
Principal

Mr. McPhetridge
Vice-Principal

Mr. Rawlins
Vice-Principal

To the Juniors, Sophomores, and Freshmen, Ms. Sherratt is a new face. But efore she became the Principal of Alameda High, she was head counselor. From 1989 to 1998, she helped students with just about anything that came up. This is her first year back at this school, after a year of working for the Alameda School District. Ms. Sherratt is the only principal of this school who was also an alumni. Another new face here is that of Mr. McPhetridge. Before coming here, he worked as an educator at San Quentin Prison, a slightly different enviroment from that of our school. He was also a high school Englsih and Spanish teacher. Someone whose face is easily recognized at Alameda High is Mr. Rawlins'. This is his fourth year at this school, and his third year as Vice Principal. During his first year, he served as the Dean of Students.

Mr. McPhetridge talks to Junior Tommy Kwok just before Winter Break.

Ms. Sherratt shifts through stacks of papers on a relatively "quiet" school day.

Mr. Rawlins checks off classroom numbers for the new fire drill system.

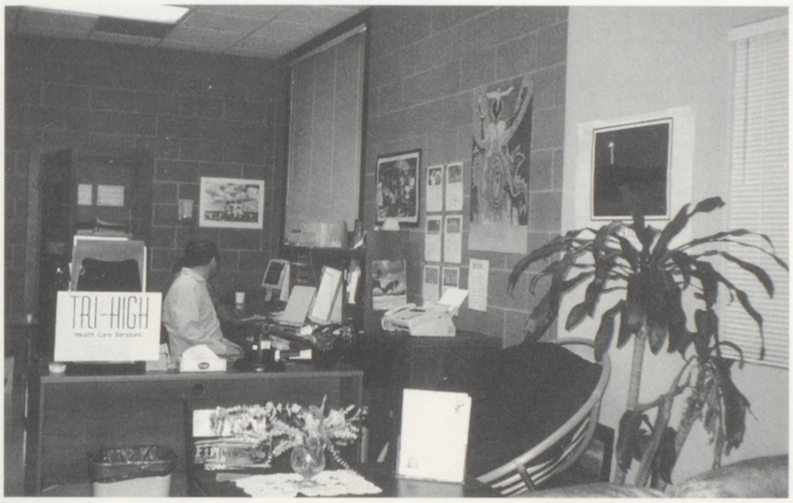
Tri-High & Counselors

Who knew . . .

Most Staff and Faculty at Alameda High eat lunch only once a week.



Comfortable chairs and open arms welcome the students as they enter Tri-High. Support services include Gay and Lesbian Youth groups, Alcohol and Drug Awareness groups, and Teen Pregnancy Prevention.

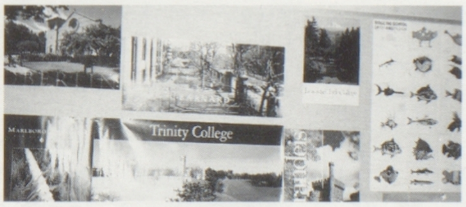
The AHS branch of Tri-High. There is also a clinic at Encinal High.

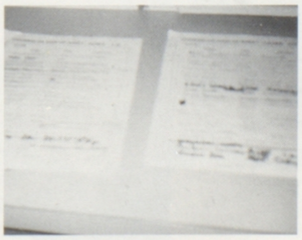
Heather Davis and Joseph Lee help the counselors sort through and organize PSAT scores.



Posters from local and national colleges line the walls of the Counseling Office.

Ms. Lauer pushing paper, and bags, and pens around campus.

Ms. Loy helping one of her Freshman fix his schedule.



The sign-up list to see the counselors spills of the page.

Ms. Porter and Aaron Hopkins help Monique Paris decipher her PSAT score.

The Tri-High Health Center is a program of Xanthos. Located on campus, a number of services are provided to students, confidentially and free of charge. It only takes a parent consent form to recieve general health examinations, diagnosis and treatment of illnesses, and peer counseling.

Career councelors, social workers, INS specialists, psychotherapists, and scheduling geniuses, our counselors wear myriad hats as they work with A.H.S. students. This year we finally got a budget to hire more counselors, which has reduced their caseloads from well over 500 students to just over 400 each. Students greatly appreciate their less harried counselors!

STUNG BY Support

There are a ton of ways available or students to express themselves on campus. One of them is to join a club with other students who have common interests. There's nothing like bonding with other students while speaking French or learning to become good business people in D.E.C.A. Clubs offer a safe and fun environment for students to learn and share experciences.

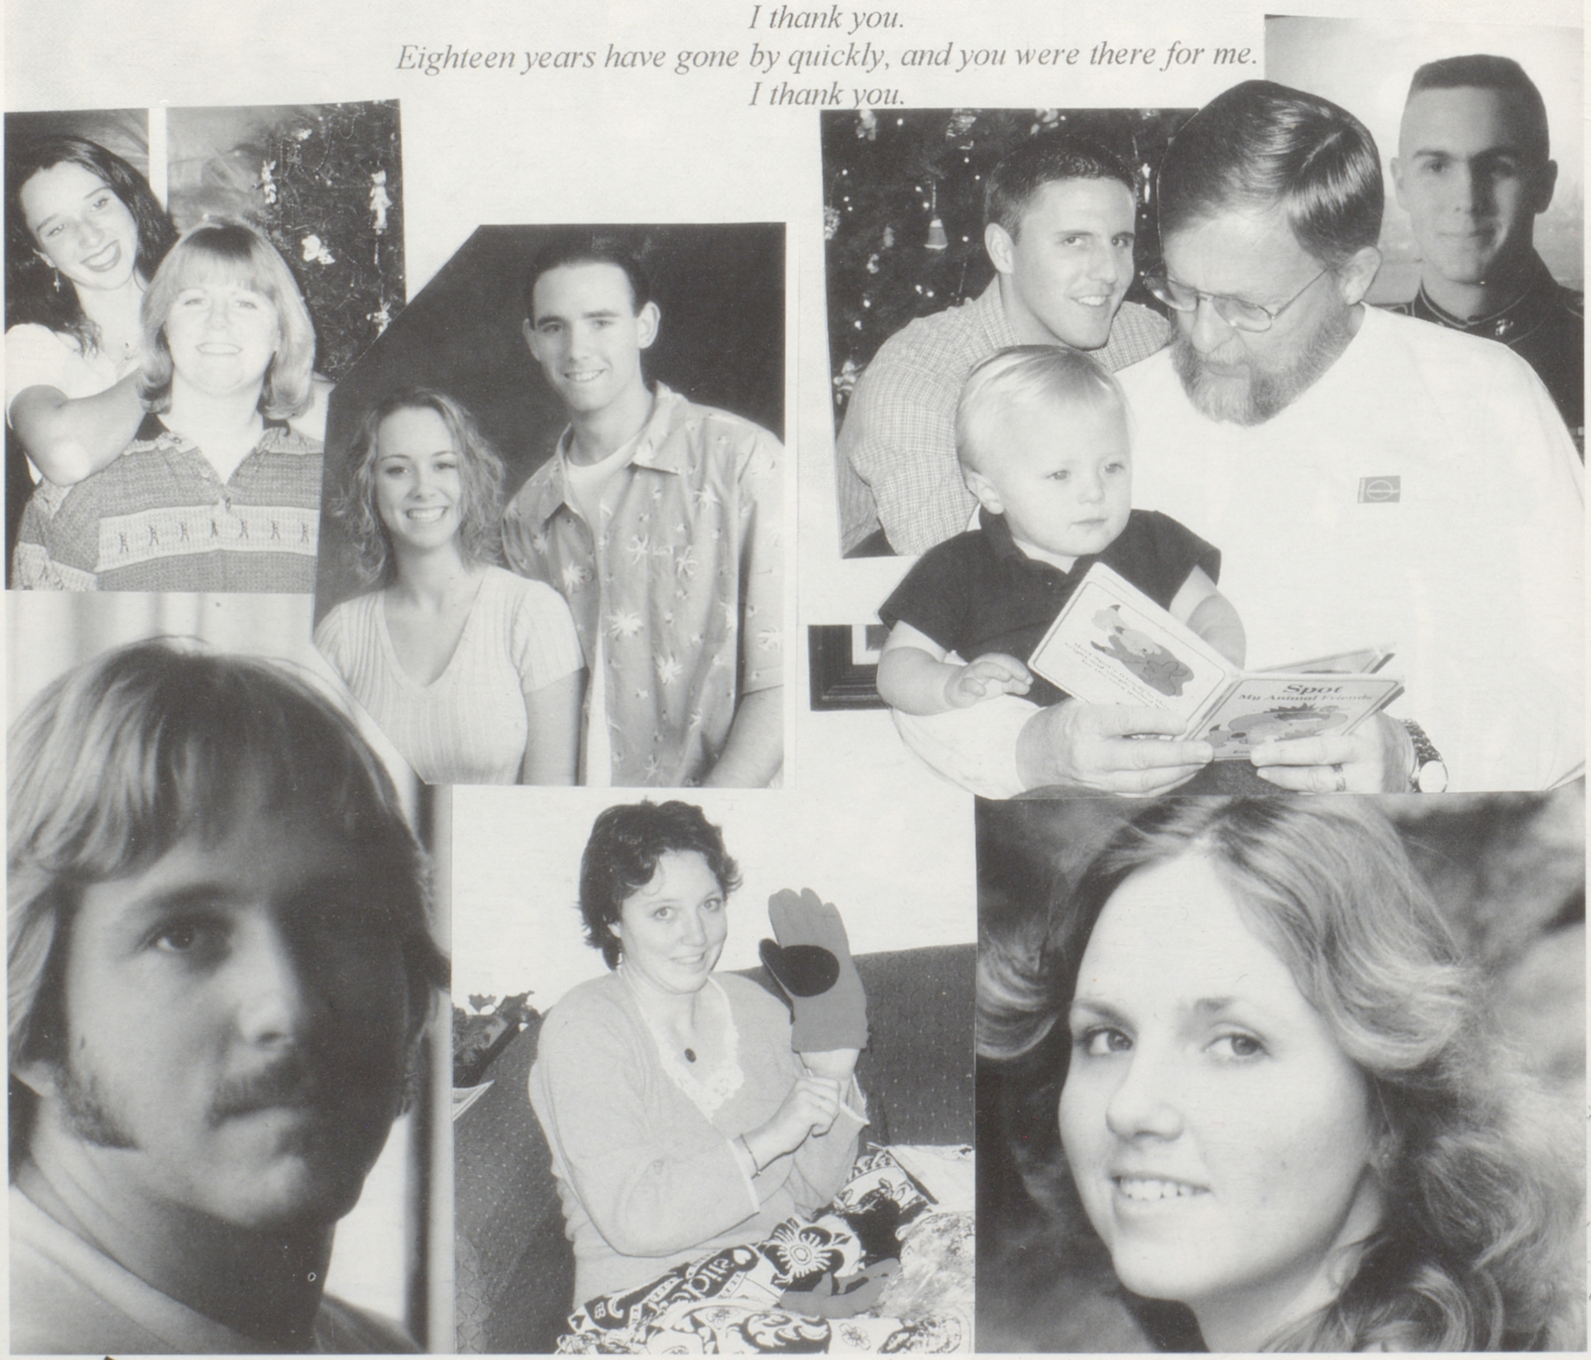
Captivating

Eighteen years have gone by quickly, and you were there for me.
I thank you.
Each year brought new pains and joys, lessons to be learned, mistakes to be forgotten
I thank you.
Through all my trials and failures you were there for me and supported me.
I thank you.
I know I will never be able to repay all the wonderful things you have done for me, but
I thank you.
My wonderful Brothers and Sisters, years we've shared that can never be replaced.
I thank you.
My patient Mothers and Fathers, without all of you, I would never have become me.
I thank you.
To my all of my family whom have always been there even when they weren't wanted,
I thank you.
The smiles and the tears we've shed will never come again, but will always be a memory.
I thank you.
Eighteen years have gone by quickly, and you were there for me.
I thank you.



Dear Dustin,

Well this is it --
and what fun we've had!
Make every day count son.
We love you.

رستے میں دم دیے کے تکتے رہے
وقت تو گزرا مگر اس طرح —
ہم چراغوں کی طرح جلتے رہے
کتنے چہرے تھے ہمارے آس پاس
تم آپ ہی مگر دل میں بستے رہے

کبھی آنسو کبھی خوشی بیچی
ہم غریبوں نے بے کسی بیچی
چند سانسیں خریدنے کے لیے

Good Luck Class of 2001

Over the years, so much has happened to all of us. We've grown and changed and I just wanted to say thank you to everyone who has been there. Some have come and others have gone, but you all have been a monumental part of my life and I will never forget any of you.

A special thank you to those who have been closest to me. There is no way on Earth that I could have survived without you; you will be in my heart every moment of my life. To Katy, Ashley, Liz, and Becky ~ I love you.

Love, Jiffy

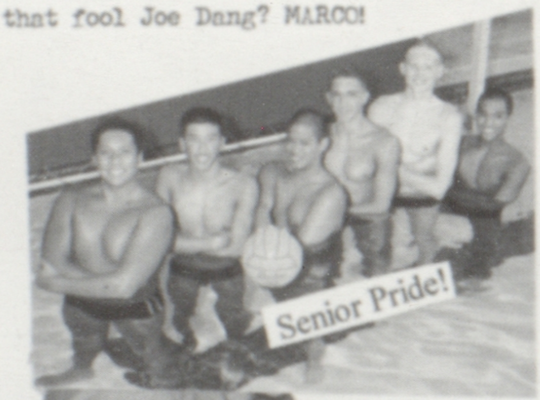
Asian Mafia

Shout out to swimming and polo players! C/O 2k1 Greg #7, Daren #11, Artie #13, Alex #1, Jeff #5 we made it guys. Treasure the memories... remember all the names we had for Rodd... which I won't name... ahem (#*&@#) ahem. Had some great times and great memories over the past four years. Remember when Zach and Drew fought? Remember those traitors Hubert and Aaron? Bad memories of... fun bunches, Rodd, weight belts, morning practice, Rodd, Hell Weeks, Rodd... and all things associated in that manner, like the number 17. It's been great! For all the younger guys, keep going... there aren't many coaches like Rodd, he's one of a kind, literally. To my fellow Asians, the mafia lives on!!! Remember that fool Joe Dang? MARCO!

Wow, it's my turn to do one of these pages. My turn to make a mark on the yearbook! It's been an awesome four years of high school. First I'd like to thank all the teachers and staff who taught me - for putting up with me in their class. A shout out to the class of 2001!!! We're finally in our senior year! My advice to everyone else is to treasure the moments in school. They only come once. If they come more than once, then you have some problems.



Senior Pride!

V-day Dance 2k

Greg "fanning" Dave off

Cherry Coke got Dave

Now onto my fellow Tech Aides. First of all a Big Thank You. Remember all the great times. All the field trips, getting free stuff =P To Dave, Greg, and Alex, we did it, 3 pretty great years of tech. How many times did everyone doubt us? How many times did we bail out the school? Cool memories... how many volts of electricity has Dave taken in the last 3 years? All those net days we went to... all of those "oops" Dave made. Look at how many jokes we've gone through in the past years. Dave, umm ethnicity (hick), Greg's eye brow, Dave, Alex's tan, or lack of thereofore, Dave.

my companion,
through good times and bad
my friend, my buddy,
through happy and sad,
beside me you stand,
beside me you walk,
you're there to listen,
you're there to talk,
with happiness, with smiles,
with pain and tears,
I know you'll be there,
throughout the years!

I'm not sure I'm always the best friend to you,
I know I'm not perfect, but this much is true.
When life gets you down, And there's nowhere to turn,
I'll help you through and I'll share your concern.

I'll try my best to return every favor,
When you're sure that you'll drown,
then I'll be your lifesaver:
Even if we both go down.
Whether we sink or swim doesn't matter at all,
Just know that I'll be there whenever you call.
I'll pull you out when life pulls you under,
I'll be the sun when there's lightning and thunder.

And when it's all over, And we've fought every war,
There's one thing I promise, Of this I am sure,
When the time comes that we're put to our rest.
Be sure that you know that, My friend, you're the best.

You're a true friend, that I want you to know,
Our love for each other has helped us to grow.
We've been through some tough times,
but we've made it through,
The only one I ever trusted was you.

You were the rainbow at the end of the storm.
You help me be different when I shouldn't conform.
You held my hand when you knew we would fall.
Every heartache, you saw me through it all.

I am a Princess
Deep inside my young heart lies the one I want to be.
And deep inside my soul I find the seeds of divinity.
Now and I see glimpses of the woman I can become.
I know someday I'll find her here if I don't give up...

Thanks Lisa for everything that you have done for me. Hope all of your dreams come true, you DESERVE it.

Everyday I'm closer to the one I want to be.
And slowly I'm uncovering my heavenly qualities
And I'll continue working toward the woman I can become.
Develop my qualities through service and through love...

I am a princess, a royal Queen I'll be.
So I must choose to find and use my divine qualitie
Daughter of heaven, a Queen someday I'll be.
An heir of my Mother in heaven for eternity

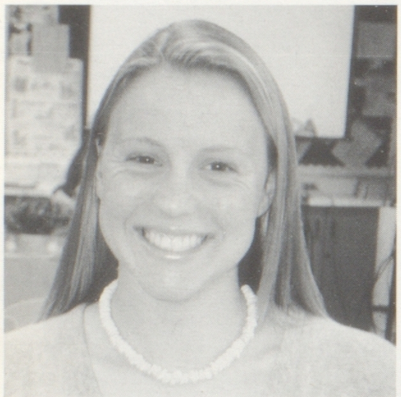
Judith Klinger
Advisor

The time has come, the adviser said, to talk of many things, of crazy kids and deadlines, of geckos and gay chickens' wings. What a year! Between Yearbook Camp in San Diego, theme development, grid design, senior ads and me being gone half the time for negotiations, it's a wonder we pulled it off at all! But we did. You did and dear god did you make me laugh along the way! Jamie, our four years together have been great and I will miss your vulnerable ferocity so, so much. Ashley, your quiet strength in stepping into this fray is inspiring. Joe, Hil and Lydia, I will forever cherish our conversations of non sequitors. Aduntly. Dave, Rob – you're absolute mensches. Every single one of you staffers – you're amazing people. Deciding to step dowm from advising hasn't been easy – the chance to really talk to you guys and get to know all about your tatoos and weekend predilitions is a sweet and rare priviledge for a teacher and I don't give it up lightly. I will miss you all and know that you'll be in my heart always. Love, Ms. K.

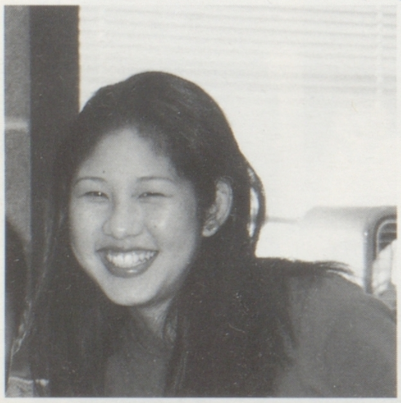


Ashley Tennell
Editor-in-Chief

This year was my first year as Editor-in-Chief and it was definitely a learning experience. Yearbook Camp was really helpful and tons of fun. I have to thank the staff for putting up with my "I'll get back to you," answers when they asked me questions and Jamie and Ms. Klinger for giving me the answers to my endless list of questions. The Editors this year helped me out a ton too. If it weren't for their hard work, Ms. Klinger, Jamie and I would have lost our minds. It was a wonderful way to end my high school years, and the book turned out great! I enjoyed working with everyone, you're all incredible. I wish everyone the best of luck in the future and hope that your lives are fill of excitement and fun. JAMIE YOU'RE DUMB, WHERE'S MY RING?!

Jamie L. Sawyer
Editor-in-Chief

This year as Editor-in-Chief was probably my most challenging year in Yearbook, but also the most fun. With our wave of new staffers I was met with the task of teaching the basics as well as keeping the veterans entertained. Yearbook camp was a ton of fun... Thank you Kelly, Amber, Ashley, Ms. J. Klinger, and Mrs. S. Klinger. This was a wonderful experience for my last year on the Yearbook staff and I thank everyone in the class and all the teachers and staff that helped us out. It was questionable at times guys, but look WE DID IT! And the book looks terrific! Thank you, everyone of you should be proud of yourselves and the work you've done. Have fun next year and good luck throughout the rest of your lives! I'll see you 'round Lydia, you'll do great! ASHLEY YOU SUCKS!



Hilaire Fong
Senior Editor

When I started working on the Senior Section I did not know exactly what I was taking on. Completing an entire section is a time-consuming process, one that takes a lot of planning and dedication. Yearbook requires creativity, time management, and crucial attention to detail. Although these past two years as an editor have been stressful at times, they have been very rewarding. I've met many talented people and experienced a great sense of teamwork. Aside from the close deadlines, the yearbook staff provided many hours of free entertainment. Whether it was Jamie jumping off the walls, gay chickens having a Jewish wedding, or Chris and Farnaz singing at the top of their lungs, there was never a dull moment in fourth period. Ms. Klinger, thank you for all of your ideas and your adunt vocabulary. Jamie and Ashley, you have been wonderful Editors-in-Chief. Joe, I hate your holey ioe bovle newspaper. Lydia, good luck as Editor-in-Chief next year; I'm sure you'll do well.

Publication Points

The Alameda High School Acorn, volume 127, was printed at Jostens Publishing plant. 1,000 copies were printed and the theme was created by the Co Editor-in-Chiefs, Jamie Sawyer and Ashley Tennell; Advisor, Ms. Klinger; and Section Editors, Amber Garrett and Kelly Wilson. Our trim size is 9x12 and is printed on GL80 #191 paper. The Acorn is produced by the Yearbook class in the publications lab using the programs Adobe PageMaker, version 6.5, and Yeartech 01, which is provided by Jostens. The computers in the lab were 10 Impression 70 Plus. Our cover design was created by the talented Cookie . The Alameda Acorn staff can be reached at (510) 337-7022, extention 5201; e-mail at ahsacorn@hotmail.com; or snail mail at Alameda High School Yearbook 2201 Encinal Ave. Alameda, CA 94501.

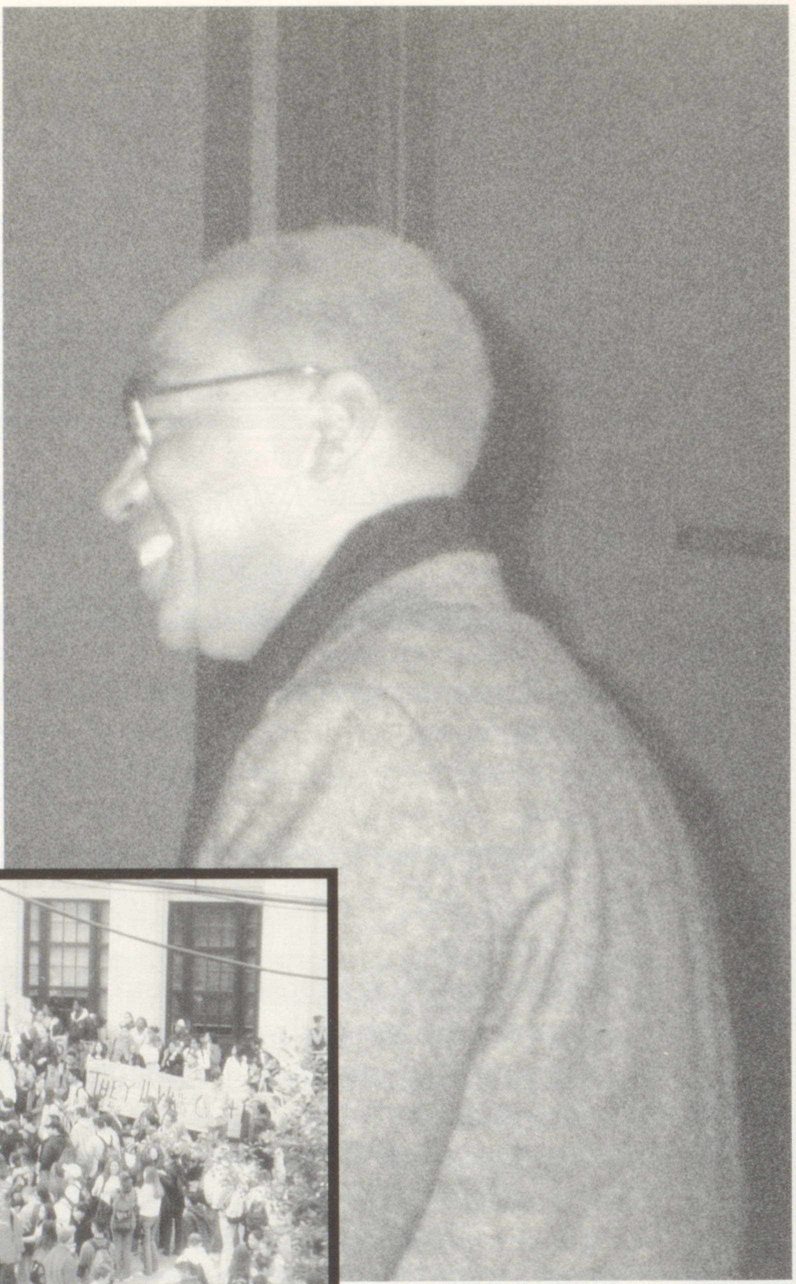
True to the Times

This year was full of memorable events, inside our school and around the world. As with every year, things happen, places change and individuals take charge. Around our school we had floods, rats, portables, picnic tables, staff changes, and a day of students taking a stand. The world around us was just as busy with a new President, who began bombing in Iraq; an energy crisis that has rocked the state of California; a brutal dog attack in our own neighboring town, San Francisco; and the introduction of High School Exit Exams for all Californian freshmen. The world keeps turning and minds keep working, but now's our chance to remember yesterday.

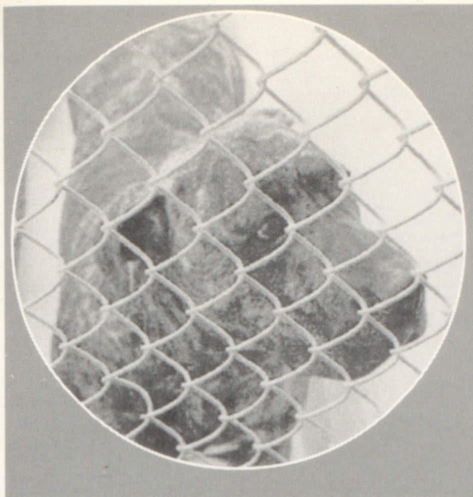


623 Alameda students, at 10:30, walked out of their third period classes and joined together with Island High and Encinal High School to protest in sympathy with the teachers against the school board. This rally was lead by David Nayfeld and was a chance for students to express how they felt about the issues facing Alameda schools.

Officer Lance and Mrs. Sherratt spend a night flippin' burgers and serving up hot french fries in South Shore's McDonalds. He and many others from our dedicated staff sacrifised an evening to help raise money for this year's Gradnight, and also because they just love to see us smile.

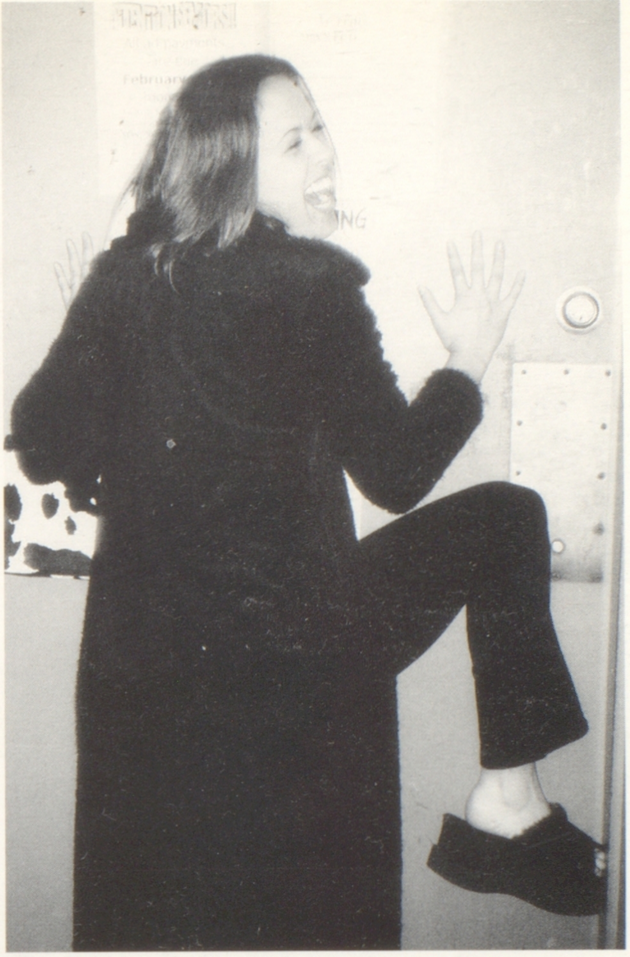
BLACK OUTS!

This year Californians found themselves without the plentiful electricity that we've learned to abuse. The entire state was affected by rolling black outs, though Alameda High only experienced one or two.



This Canario-mastiff attacked and killed a woman in San Frasisco earlier this year while she was trying to get into her appartment. The owners were put on trial and the dog was sentenced to death.

After months of recounts, and much disagreement, President Bush was sworn into office. President Bush faces some difficult years in office since he only won by a few hundred votes and he has a split Congress.



Students found themselves stranded when bathrooms were locked after the water main broke. It was only for a day, but to the students and teachers that were in need of those facilities it felt like an eternity. Blanca Cardenas expresses some of the frustration students felt by trying to bust down the bathroom door.

SUPPORT ALAMEDA TEACHERS
TEACH for FOOD!

The future rests in the hands of the children and the students. Those hands are governed by minds that are molded and enlightened by men and women who choose to teach. In a way, the burden of assisting the future rests on the shoulders of our teachers, but they aren't being paid enough to live off teaching. Without teachers, there is no future, so why is there even a question?

1) Students flocked to the soda machines while the water on campus was scarce due to the broken water main, peirced during the construction of the new portable rooms. 2) The portables were put in place for the classes that would normally meet in the top floor of the old building. These classes had to move while an elevator was finally being installed in the building.

To provide the students with a little more room to relax, and to encourage students to eat on campus for lunch, Mrs. Sherratt added new tables and trash cans in the mural courtyard.

Cameron Stewart and James Pope review for their Freshmen Exit Exams. They are part of the first year of Alameda High student to take this test. It has become a new state wide requirement for graduation.
